Accused Chief Assassin Of Trujillo Slain In Gun Fight

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Soldiers and police shot down retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, the accused chief assassin of dictator Rafael Trujillo, in a gun battle Sunday night in the heart of this city. An alleged accomplice was slain with him.

Diaz, 52, was ripped by machinegun fire and died on the street. His companion, Antonio de la Maza, died soon after in a military hospital.

The two had been trying to find refuge in the neighborhood when a house-to-house search squad of 100 men, acting on a tip, came upon them.

Authorities said De la Maza was carrying a gun that Generalissimo Trujillo had with him during his fatal ambush last Tuesday night on a road outside the capital.

An army communique said Diaz and De la Maza jumped from their car and began shooting after security agents had chased them to the edge of Independence Park and Bolivar Avenue. Police casualties were not mentioned.

The police got a tip that Diaz and De la Maza had been seen on a downtown street. The gun battle began 30 minutes after the two fugitives stopped at a house and were refused entry by the owner.

Police held back crowds of on-lookers during the intensive neighborhood search. A Puerto Rican correspondent and a Berlin photographer were momentarily detained by police.

Diaz had been a friend of Trujillo during much of the slain dictator's 31 years of power. Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., who took over as armed forces chief when his father died, said Diaz led the assassination plot because his forced retirement from the Dominican army had made him bitter.

Earlier the government had reported one of the eight members of the assassination band killed while resisting arrest, three in custody and four at large.

More 'Riders' Head South

13 Face Trial Today In Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—"Freedom Riders" in Mississippi's capital city today settled down to serve their sentences quietly, while a fresh flow of Negroes and whites challenging "Jim Crow" barriers of the Deep South were expected here.

During the last 13 days, 65 Freedom Riders have come to Jackson with the announced intention of violating the state's century-old segregation laws and customs. All 65 have been jailed and 52 were convicted on breach of the peace charges.

The remaining 13—the latest group to arrive—go on trial in municipal court today.

All previous groups have been found guilty, fined $200 and given 60-day suspended jail sentences.

So far, 14 riders have been released from jail, 13 by posting $500 appeal bond, and one paying a fine of $197. The rest have settled down to working off their fines at the rate of $3 a day.

A three-day hunger strike weakened Saturday night when all Negroes in Hinds County jail ate supper. At the city jail, a hard core of white prisoners continued their hunger strike.

Two leaders of the Freedom Riders movement said in Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday the rides will continue and will include "fly-ins" into Jackson within the week.

Marvin Rich of New York, an organizer for the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE), and Jerome Smith, 22, a former Southern (La.) University student from New Orleans, made the remarks on a television program in which viewers telephoned questions.

Rich said the rides would be made despite U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's plea for a period of calm and an injunction against the riders' activities in Alabama by a federal judge.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., of Atlanta, said Sunday the Freedom Riders will end their sorties into the South if the federal government refuses to grant licenses to segregated interstate bus terminals.

King, co-sponsor of Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta, praised Mississippi authorities for curbing disturbances in connection with the rides. "Mississippi has gone out of the way to see that violence does not take place," he said.

More riders were expected in Jackson Tuesday after a group announced plans to leave Richmond, Va., tonight.

Driver Knocks Over Five Lisbon Meters

LISBON — An unidentified motorist knocked down five parking meters, scraped a highway road marker and drove approximately 280 feet on the sidewalk on E. Lincoln Way, just east of the square, at 5:30 a.m. today, police report.

Police estimated the damage to meters alone will be over $500. They suspect that the driver either fell asleep or was drunk.

The night clerk at the Wick Hotel heard the crash but when he got outside, the car was gone. He notified police.

Cites 'Fiscal Irresponsibility'

Ike Urges GOP Hit At JFK Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged Republicans to go all out in their attacks on what he calls the "fiscal irresponsibility" of the Kennedy administration.

In recent conferences here, the former president painted for party leaders a grim picture of consequences he said could stem from any inflationary spiral touched off by government spending. He said the result could be similar to the economic crash of 1929.

Eisenhower found an approving audience among Republicans of all shades of opinion for his budget-balancing rally calls. But how much the GOP members could accomplish in this field remained problematical.

Rep. William E. Miller, the party's new national chairman, conceded that President Kennedy is likely to get a "substantial portion" of his basic New Frontiers program through Congress.

Miller was asked by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., on a television program taped for New York stations Sunday if this was likely to put the government further in the red.

"Well," the chairman replied, "if his program is adopted for housing and for education and for depressed areas and for all these increases which he is proposing in the military and in economic aid and assistance, it's going to increase governmental expenditures in the next fiscal year well over $5 billion and would result, therefore, in a deficit of some $7 or $8 billion."

"This can result only in increased taxation or deficit spending which leads to inflation. There can't be any other answer to it."

In contrast to this, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, a former Eisenhower administration official, estimated the deficit for the year beginning July 1 at about $3.7 billion.

Dillon said on a television program with Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., the Kennedy administration is counting on a big increase in tax revenues eventually to balance the budget, take up the added costs of the New Frontiers program and to open the way to a tax cut.

Mr. Mason was born in Pleasant Dale, W. Va., Feb. 3, 1933.

A graduate of East Palestine High School, he received an engineering degree from Ohio State University in 1959, and recently accepted a position with Owens Glass Co. of New Jersey.

A member of Covenant United Presbyterian Church, he served two years in the Navy.

Besides his parents, he leaves a brother, Richard, an engineering student at Youngstown University; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mason of Wadestown, W. Va., and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. G. Edwards of Beckley, W. Va.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, with Rev. William Robb, pastor of Covenant United Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

3 TRUCKERS FINED

Three truck drivers were fined a total of $141 and costs for overloading in Mayor Dean Cranmer's traffic court this morning.

Fined after being cited by the State Highway Patrol were Ralph L. Milen, 25, of Leavittsburg, $70 and costs; and Patsy Bonnoni, 25, of Homer City, Pa., $25 and costs. Dallas K. Lykens, 32, of State College, Pa., was cited by the city and fined $46 and costs.

JFK Gives Macmillan Report of Vienna Talks

Reds Ignore Topic of Laos Cease-Fire

Ask Conference Resume Work on Political Angle

GENEVA (AP) — Communist delegates to the East-West conference on Laos continued today to brush aside talk about cease-fire violations despite the announcement by President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev that they recognize the importance of an effective truce in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The Communists hailed the Vienna conference as historic but there was no indication so far what effect the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting would have on the deadlocked Geneva meeting.

Confab Resumed Today

The conference, which had been marking time until after the President and the premier met, resumed today.

The first Communist speaker, J. Michalowski of Poland, expressed belief the Vienna meeting will help the Laotian conference in its work but gave strong support to the Soviet demand that the conference get to work on plans for a political settlement in Laos.

Michalowski urged the conference to spend no more time on the Western demands for new instructions to the international truce commission to prevent cease-fire violations.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin also brushed aside the cease-fire as a minor issue. He asked the non-Communist delegates what parts of the Soviet political proposals were unacceptable and urged them to present proposals of their own.

Termed Conference Historic

Pushkin also termed the Vienna conference historic and said "the favorable influence of this event cannot be overlooked."

The only speaker from the Western side, Malcolm MacDonald of Britain, said he believed the Vienna meeting would help the Geneva conference in its work "for a united, independent, neutral and sovereign Laos."

It had been expected that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko would return to the conference from Vienna to give Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi a fill-in on the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting. But instead, Gromyko flew to Moscow with Khrushchev.

The Kennedy-Khrushchev expression of the importance of an effective cease-fire was termed "useful and encouraging" by one conference official. Others were inclined to dismiss it as obvious and not particularly new.

Western delegates, particularly the United States, refused to open the Geneva conference until they

Baccalaureate Service Held

Give of Yourself, Seniors Are Told

The successful offensive strategy in life is to give of yourself, Salem High School seniors were told by Rev. Daniel L. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity, English Lutheran Church, at baccalaureate services held Sunday evening in the high school gymnasium.

The seniors, who will be graduated Thursday night in the same room, their parents and friends attended the service which was in charge of the Salem Ministerial Association.

Speaking on the subject, "Offensive Strategy," Rev. Keister based his sermon on the Biblical text, "He that findeth his life shall lose it, and he that loseth his life for My sake shall find it." (Matthew 10:39).

The speaker pointed out how Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve

Two Injured In Car Mishaps

Drivers Cited After Autos Leave Roads

Two persons were injured in three auto accidents on area highways Sunday.

Injured were Thelma S. Kershner, 32, of Thomas Drive, North Jackson, bruises of face and shoulders, and Emmanuel P. Harper, 32, of Youngstown, lacerations of the forehead, a concussion and possible fractured skull.

Both of the injured were involved in separate one-car accidents. The North Jackson woman was hurt when she lost control of her car on a curve and went off Rt. 224 into a field, two and a half miles west of North Jackson at 2 a.m. Sunday.

The State Patrol said Mrs. Kershner was traveling east when she went off the right side of the roadway, struck a highway sign and came to rest in a field, 300 feet from the road. She was cited for reckless operation.

Harper was injured when he lost control of his car and turned over in a field off Tippecanoe Rd., north of Canfield, at 12:20 p.m. Sunday. According to the Patrol, Harper drove off the right side of the road into a fence, uprooting two small trees on the way. The car then struck a large rock in a field which rolled the auto over and back through the fence again. Harper also was cited for reckless operation.

No one was injured in a two-car accident at 9:45 p.m. Sunday on Rt. 30, seven and a half miles east of the Stark County line.

Thomas J. Maher, 18, of Weirton, W. Va., was arrested for failure to yield the right of way

Warm Welcome In Venezuela

Adlai's Latin Visit Off to Good Start

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson's special presidential mission to South America appeared today to have gotten off to a good start.

As Stevenson began his second day of private talks with President Romulo Betancourt and other Venezuelan officials, U.S. officials were reported highly pleased by the cordiality of his reception.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations, here as the personal representative of President Kennedy, got a warm welcome at the airport Sunday from a friendly crowd of 400 to 500.

Heavily armed national guardsmen and police were there as routine precaution, but there were no hostile demonstrations at the airport or along the route through downtown Caracas, where former Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran into violent anti-American demonstrations in 1958.

Stevenson held a long private talk with Betancourt Sunday night at the president's home. They appeared in high good spirits as they posed for photographers.

They talked for two hours before sitting down to dinner. Also taking part in the talks were Venezuelan Foreign Minister Marcos Falcon Briceno, U.S. Ambassador Teodoro Moscoso and Lincoln Gordon, who heads Kennedy's task force on Latin American economic assistance.

Stevenson's program today included a luncheon meeting with Betancourt and talks with the

Jury Picked In E. Liverpool Murder Case

LISBON — Selection of a jury got underway in Common Pleas Court this morning in the second degree murder trial of Raymond G. Campbell, 25, of East Liverpool who is charged with slaying his wife at their Beechwood home November 28.

The selection of the jury started at 10 a.m. Two persons had been discarded by 11 a.m. after questioning by Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Defense Attys. George Aaronson and Bernard Fine-man. The jury was expected to be selected by noon and then recess for lunch. Norman Ward, assignment commissioner and court paupf, said the jury probably will go by bus to view the home about 1 p.m.

Campbell, indicted by the January Grand Jury for the fatal shooting of his wife, Doris May Campbell, 22, pleaded innocent and was sent to Lima State Hospital for examination. He has been free on bond since his release.

Campbell is accused of emptying a nine-shot .22-caliber pistol at his wife in the bedroom of their home. She had returned home only the day before after about a week's absence during which Campbell filed charges against her for abandoning their five-year-old son.

Judge Joel H. Sharp is presiding.

Allied Leaders Map Strategy In Cold War

Kennedy Reportedly Warned Khrushchev On Berlin Action

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy today told British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of the Vienna, Austria, summit talks. The President's talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev at Vienna, ending Sunday night, brought an agreement to maintain East-West contacts but limited results otherwise.

And today, Communist delegates to the Geneva conference on Laos continued to brush aside

Kennedy To Give TV Report to Nation

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy will make a television-radio report to the nation Tuesday night from Washington on his talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev and French President Charles de Gaulle.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced Kennedy would go on the air at 7 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time.

The address will be carried live by the major television networks and on radio by the Mutual Broadcasting System.

talks about cease-fire violations despite the announcement that Kennedy and Khrushchev recognized the importance of an effective truce in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Nikita Rushes Home
Khrushchev rushed home to welcome President Sukarno of Indonesia, a neutralist Asian leader whose government has contracted for more than $300 million worth of Soviet military aid.

Khrushchev told the Viennese in a farewell statement he hoped his talks with Kennedy would lead to peace, understanding and co-operation between the United States and the Soviet Union.

At Vienna, the Soviet leader stuck to the hard lines of his anti-Western policy. But U.S. officials hope that, as a result of the Vienna conference, he may yet modify his course.

Kennedy is reported to have told Khrushchev emphatically that if he forces a showdown over West Berlin, the Western powers will defend the city. Khrushchev was warned against miscalculating Western intentions.

Broadly, the U.S. President sought to get across the idea that, despite setbacks in Laos and Cuba, the United States intends to fulfill its defense commitments to other nations around the world.

Leaders Map Strategy
Today in London, President Kennedy and Macmillan spent nearly three hours mapping Western strategy in the East-West cold war. They dispensed with all advisers and officials for most of their session.

It took place in an austere study in Admiralty House. Outside, American and British security men and London policemen kept a watch on a crowd which at one time numbered nearly 5,000.

The nub of the President's report to Macmillan, diplomats said, amounted to this: "The Vienna exchanges produced better understanding of the rival positions—but no firm agreements beyond a decision to keep on talking."

The President, whose father was a target of bitter criticism as ambassador to Britain at the outset of World War II, had luncheon with Macmillan.

Tonight he is receiving the highest hospitality the nation can of-

Ohio Employers Would Be Affected

House To Vote On Bill Hiking
Jobless Fund Contributions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The day of reckoning apparently has arrived on Ohio's unemployment compensation fund which once topped the $600 million mark and now is in danger of going broke.

The Ohio House this week—either Wednesday or Thursday—will vote on a bill increasing employers' contributions to the fund. It would increase the maximum rate of 2.7 per cent of payroll to 3 per cent and kick an extra $40 million into the fund each year.

That, however, is only the beginning of a series of events which will double the unemployment compensation taxes on Ohio employers in the next year. That is the estimate of Rep. William W. Milligan, R-Shelby, chairman of the House committee which reported the rate-increase bill to the House floor.

As the legislature begins its 23rd work week in hopes of winding up its session June 23, there are the other prospects for Ohio employers who already pay $136 million a year in unemployment insurance taxes.

Another $37 million in contributions to the benefit fund provided by present law because of depletion of the fund to the danger level.

Another $30 million in contributions to the federal government to pay for the 13-week benefits extension approved by Congress this spring.

An increased charge of $15 million to $25 million to employers whose "reserve ratios" will be recalculated in the next few weeks because of high unemployment in the 1960 recession.

Together with the $40 million which the rate-increase bill would produce, the total new cost to Ohio employers would be a minimum of $122 million a year and a maximum of $132 million.

Several factors contributed to the downhill slide taken by the benefits fund from its heyday in 1955.

In that year, employers were looking through rose-colored glasses after 15 years of prosperity. The benefits fund was at an all-time high. Industry persuaded the legislature to give Ohio business what amounted to a $120 million rebate on unemployment taxes already paid and reduce employers' contribution rate to a point which makes the Ohio tax one of the lowest in the nation.

Then came the 1958 recession which took a huge bite out of the fund. Included in that bite was a temporary 13-week extension of benefits to the long-time unemployed. Cost of the extension was borne entirely by the Ohio fund without federal aid.

Then came the 1959 legislature, the first Democratic-controlled assembly in a decade. That legislature increased benefits sharply without raising the level of employer contributions.

Then came the 1960 recession. Benefits paid out already have driven the fund level down to about $200 million—one third of its one-time size—and experts are predicting it will be down to $100 million within a year.

That spells trouble unless something is done, employers and labor agree.

Labor representatives are saying the $136 million the fund will pick up each year through the avenues listed will not be enough to preserve the fund even if unemployment dwindles to its normal level quickly.

Labobr also opposes a number of provisions in the rate-increase bill which would restrict eligibility for jobless benefits. The restrictions were included in another bill, early in the spring, which proposed to extend benefits for 13 weeks on the state level. Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle vetoed that bill and the Republican legislature did not even attempt to override the veto.

The new bill, however, contains only about half the number of restrictions included in the extender bill. Republicans assert the curbs included in the new bill likely will be palatable to the governor.

Scheduled for a floor vote in the House this afternoon was a Senate-approved emergency bill to lift the ban on simultaneous horse-racing meetings in the same county or within 50 miles of each other if one meeting is at a fair.

The bill is designed to protect five central Ohio fair race meetings which will conflict with 88 days of harness racing at Scioto Downs, south of Columbus.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Far from merely fighting this recession, the government is going permanently into the business of retraining the unemployed and constantly moving the re-skilled jobless thousands of miles from depressed to prosperous areas.

It can be reported that Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg expects to retrain and relocate, if necessary, at least 800,000 — and perhaps a million — people thrown out of work by automation. This will take four years and perhaps as much as $600 million. However, the money will be available. President Kennedy has told Goldberg that the budget for the first year can run as much as $150 million.

Much of this retraining process will be modeled after the Swedish plan which the labor secretary and a special Labor and Commerce departments team will study later this month in Stockholm.

NOT ONLY will the million jobless workers be retrained at government expense, but they will be paid the legal minimum wage while learning. This is $1.15 an hour — or $46 a week if they learn during full 40-hour weeks.

When the national minimum wage goes up statutorily, their training pay will rise, too. In addition, they will be given lump sums for moving their homes and families thousands of miles, if necessary, to available jobs.

All this will be handled by a beefed-up section of the Department of Labor. Until now, the problem has been handled by a small Office of Automation, a new addition. But shortly, it can be disclosed, Goldberg will replace this with a big new Bureau of Automation, Manpower and Training. This will give it permanent and expanded status such as the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

This makes history. It marks the first time this nation has officially developed a program on automation. How badly it is needed can be seen in a recent report issued by Pat Gorman, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen.

HE REVEALED how the electronic brain machine not only is replacing manpower but changing the sociological and economic map of the land.

It will surprise the devotees of my friend Jim Farrell and his Studs Lonigan to learn that Gorman reported that:

"Today there is no slaughter of livestock inside the Chicago stockyards. In the whole Chicago area only a few small packers continue operations in what was once the largest meat production center of the world. As recently as 1939 Illinois employed 20 per cent of the nation's workers in the meat industry. By the time of the 1958 Census of Manufacturers, that percentage was down to 8 per cent."

"Now, in 1961, it could well be under 5 per cent. Since 1940, we estimate that more than 20,000 Illinois packinghouse workers have seen their jobs vanish."

No longer can Carl Sandburg sing of Chicago that it is hog butcher to the world.

Now Goldberg plans to place such men as the displaced 20,000 under state vocational services for retraining. These services will be enlarged through the financial aid of the federal government with the states matching some of the funds. After they are retrained, a beefed-up U.S. Employment Service will search the nation for available jobs.

WHILE ALL THIS is happening, the new Bureau of Automation will be scouting for advanced warning of threatening layoffs. It will set up clearing houses throughout the nation to spread all pertinent information on the problem of Man and The Machine.

Finally, the government will try to anticipate new talents of new electronic brain machines. It will train workers in advance to operate new machines so they'll be ready.

This, the government hopes, will help industry modernize to meet low cost competition from abroad and keep productivity high at home — and yet see to it that no man goes hungry or feels useless in the space age.

For the Home Handy Man: Scoop on Some Handy Tools

There are few projects you can tackle around the house without eventually finding yourself drilling holes.

Without the proper equipment, this simple job can slow up, even halt, your work. And the result is likely to look like something chewed or chiseled instead of drilled.

Brace Up

Best tool for boring holes in wood is the brace. It will take auger bits for large holes, or twist drills with special shanks.

The brace, a U-shaped tool with a round handle at one end and a drill chuck at the other, is useful also as a screwdriver.

Get a brace with a ratchet to permit its use as a screwdriver, and to serve as an aid in working in tight places. This is one tool for which you should be willing to spend a little more money. Check the action of the ratchet, look for smooth, bearing action at the crank handle and the head of the brace. Wood parts should be a comfortable fit and well finished.

Four Sided

Drill bits for a brace have four-sided ends for insertion in the chuck. The auger bit will do all the ordinary wood boring. Sizes range from 1/4 in. to 1 inch, and are graduated by 16ths of an inch. To learn the size, check the number on the bit. No. 4 would mean 4-16ths or 1/4.

The twist drill lacks the screw point of the auger bit, is used for boring small holes for bolts or for starting screws. The twist drill starts at an 1/8th of an inch and is graduated in 32nds. One marked 8 would be 8-32nds or 1/4 in.

The expansive bit is an auger bit with an adjustable cutting section. There is no twist to the shank, so pronounced in the auger bit. Sizes range from 7/8 to 1 1/2 in., and 1 1/2 to 3 in.

You'll also want several screw-driver bits and a counter-sink bit to go with your brace.

Don't Bore Through

When you use an auger bit, never bore all the way through. It will splinter the hole as it emerges. As soon as the point shows through, stop and bore the hole from the other side.

For fast drilling of small holes a hand drill is useful. This uses twist drills with straight shanks. The hand drill is powered by a hand-powered wheel geared to the drive shaft with a chuck at the end.

When using any type of drill, follow certain steps. Make certain the drill bit is tight in the chuck. Mark the center of the hole to be drilled. Use an awl on wood, a punch on metal. The end of the bit is placed on the mark and the drill started slowly.

Hold Straight

Keep the drill perpendicular to the work. If sighting along the tool doesn't convince you, use a square.

When drilling holes in two pieces of wood to be joined, clamp them together and drill in one operation.

When making holes in wood for screws, keep the holes undersize. Use a bit that's about a third smaller. When drilling in metal, make the hole the same size as the fastener. If you are using a self-tapping screw in sheet metal, make the hole slightly smaller.

Follow Basic Rules To Get Good Results With Varnish

Good Results with varnish can be obtained by almost anyone who is willing to follow certain basic rules. But it is what is done after the varnish has been applied that determines whether the finish will be merely good or whether it will have a professional, custom appearance.

The exceptional finish is obtained with the use of pumice stone and/or rottenstone. It should not be done until the varnish has thoroughly dried, which takes about a week even if it appears to be dry to the touch and can be used for all ordinary purposes.

YOUR HARDWARE STORE or paint dealer can furnish you with the rubbing materials—powdered pumice stone, powdered rottenstone, rubbing oil and a felt rubbing pad. The rubbing pad is not necessary if you have a clean, lintless cloth. Mix a paste of the pumice stone and oil right on the surface of the finish. Dip the pad or cloth in the mixture and begin rubbing using straight strokes, parallel to the grain, and moderate pressure. Continue rubbing until the surface feels perfectly smooth, then use a clean, dry cloth to wipe off the remaining pumice and oil.

IN SOME CASES, you will find that this procedure has given the finish a sufficient luster and smoothness. In others, you may find that, while the surface is smooth to the touch, the finish has a slightly cloudy or dull appearance; so slight, in fact, that you have to look at it a second time to notice it.

It is when you are aware of this cloudiness that you put the rottenstone to work. Just repeat what you did with the pumice stone and rubbing oil, except that this time the mixture is made up of rottenstone and the oil. You will discover after a while that the finish is taking on a brilliant lustre and that tiny imperfections have disappeared. A coat of paste wax, well buffed, will give additional protection to the finish.

AS FOR THE VARNISHING itself that's another story. But these tips will help you avoid trouble: use a good quality varnish, a hard-drying or rubbing type. Flow on the varnish, using a minimum of brushing. Quickly smooth it out and remove any bubbles by "tipping off," which consists of holding the brush vertically and going over the surface with the tips of the bristles. And, by all means, be sure that you do your varnishing in a room which is as dust-free as possible.

EXPANSION UNLIMITED— "The Tradewind" offers a low-cost basic unit suitable for a cold or warm weather vacation house, which can be expanded into an all-purpose home with the addition of one to five bedrooms. The Tradewind's flexibility lies in the centralization of the utility areas. Adaptable to any site, the house is simply placed on a platform above the ground line. Plan HA194P, by Architect Samuel Paul, 89-30 161st St., Jamaica, N. Y., contains 704 sq. ft. of living space as a basic unit.

Repair Leaky Faucets To Halt Costly Damage

There's a definite parallel between the ageless tale of water seeping through the hole in the dike and the leaky faucet you may have in your home. Just as the public spirited boy in the fable acted immediately to prevent damage, you should have any and all leaky faucets fixed without delay.

Don't put off this repair to the leaky faucets, advises the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau. The longer the faucets are allowed to drip, the more extensive the damage will be to the faucet parts, which can result in costly repair and replacement.

Today's modern faucets are designed to perform satisfactorily if they receive the proper care. Most faucets are of the compression type where the water is shut off when the closing of the faucet handle presses a rubber washer against the metal seat.

If the faucet is not shut off completely, gallons of water a month are wasted. But, equally important, this constant seepage of water can damage the faucet parts to the point that costly replacement is required.

This waste of water and expensive replacement can be avoided if you have your plumbing contractor check and fix the leaky faucets in your home. While he's in your home, it is an economical and practical idea to have your contractor check all of the faucets to be sure that they are in top operating condition.

NOW FROM Carrier for home comfort and health...

You've never experienced such clean, pure air in every room in your home, because there's never been an air purifier like this. Latest product of Carrier research, it attaches to a warm air furnace, provides these four important benefits:

PURIFICATION—Pollen and other harmful elements are continuously removed from the air. This power to reduce contamination and thus purify the air has been well established by laboratory test.

CLEANLINESS—A unique filter, self-cleaning to maintain its high efficiency, makes homes cleaner, too. Less need to dust. Furnishings stay fresher longer, so cleaning bills go down.

DOOR REMOVAL—Cooking and other odors are whisked away. Even air heavy with pipe, cigar and cigarette smoke is sweet and fresh again in minutes.

HUMIDITY CONTROL—Moisture is fed into bone-dry warm air that irritates sinus and nasal passages and causes furniture to come apart.

This Sensational Air Purifier can also be added to an air conditioning system. For details, come in or call.

Dine Outdoors In Comfort On Properly Designed Patio

So you like eating outdoors—tumble cookout? The sunshade can be a simple affair built in pergola style. Four stout posts, two at each end of the patio, supporting two beams form the main framework. Atop the beams and at right angles to them, 1x6s can be laid at three-foot intervals and these, in turn, are topped with 1x1s which are spaced two feet apart or so. The beamed openwork crown will act as a trellis for climbing, leafy vines like cleamatish which provide plenty of cool shade but avoid an enclosed, indoor feeling.

The sunshade pergola and wind-screens should be built of a tough outdoor wood like Douglas fir. They may be finished to suit personal taste with a wood-colored stain or with paint.

Last but not least on the comfort list is a dining set. It should be sturdy and comfortable, but attractive, too. A glass-topped, wrought iron table with matching chairs is both lovely and functional, and it can stay outdoors all year around. An advantage of equipping the dining patio with permanent furnishings is that the set can also be used as a game table and as a snack bar for patio parties.

Obviously, windbreaks are the first ingredient needed to make outdoor dining an always pleasurable experience. The house itself will form one wall for the dining patio, which should be located adjacent to the kitchen for easy serving. On two other sides, screening fences of a decorative but functional pattern like the board-on-board can be erected. The third side can open into the garden, but arrange plantings here to act as breeze control with an adequate number of tall, bushy shrubs situated to do the job.

The second item needed for weather regulation is a sunshade. It's delightful to partake of chicken a la king while basking in sunshine, but not if the thermo-

Let The Reservations Be Noted

There is nothing in sight to stop the exchange of U.S.-made tractors for Cubans being held prisoner by Cuba's Castro dictatorship. The controversy stirred by the deal will not block it.

The Tractors for Freedom Committee is continuing to make its appeal for contributions and now is in a position to make a firm proposal to Premier Castro. It is expecting to raise the money needed for the tractors with no trouble.

Nevertheless the reservations that have been made to the deal have been useful for Americans and some day may be useful to Cubans and other Latin Americans. The reservations chiefly concern the propriety of any deal that puts the United States in the position of offering ransom for human life.

Walter Reuther, president of United Auto Workers, and one of the three persons on the committee, says the Cubans wouldn't be in prison if the United States had not been involved in the invasion attempt last April 17. This feeling presumably is shared by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the other two members, and perhaps by President Kennedy.

It is not shared by Americans who have doubts about the tractor deal. To these Americans it seems like a confession of guilt to say Castro must be given U.S. tractors to spare the lives of his own countrymen because the United States encouraged them to try to overthrow his dictatorship.

The only guilt associated with the April 17 incident is the guilt of failure. Once the United States had associated itself with the desire of anti-Castro Cubans to return to their homeland to overthrow a despotism, there should have been no possibility of failure. Everything should have been done to the top notch of U.S. ability. It wasn't.

The point has been glossed over, but the 1961 invasion of Cuba was fouled up worse than the invasion of 1898, despite the fact that in World War II the United States became the all-time master of amphibious invasion. For this it owes all Cubans who cherish freedom an apology that could never be expressed by a few hundred tractors turned over to Fidel Castro.

Newspapers Want No Subsidy

Three first-year members of the U.S. House of Representatives, including Charles A. Mosher and John M. Ashbrook of Ohio, have made a joint statement about newspaper subsidies in the Post Office Department budget that deserves a resounding Amen. Reps. Mosher and Ashbrook are both weekly newspaper publishers, as was the other member of the trio, Paul Findley of Illinois.

"We invite our fellow newspaper publishers of America to take the lead in ending this and other federal subsidies," they said. "By clearing our own skirts of subsidy, we can more effectively lead the battle for sound fiscal policies in Washington. . . . A strong independent press should pay its own mailing costs as a matter of sound principle."

Amen. This newspaper wants second-class mailing costs to be fairly determined as between newspapers and magazines and wants to pay its full share.

It wants no part of the traditional privilege of mailing editions free inside the country of publication—a privilege now unimportant to papers that provide their own daily distribution to the bulk of their subscribers.

And it wants to be identified in no way, shape, or form with any of the squawks and protests purporting to represent the newspaper industry when congressional committees go through the annual ordeal of trying to whittle down the postal deficit by adjusting rates.

All it asks is a realistic accounting of all Post Office Department costs and a fair allocation to various users so each can pay what it owes for the federal government's services.

No subsidy is in order for the newspaper industry.

By the same token, no subsidy is in order for any American industry that is able to pay its own way.

Mark One Up For Our Way

If you could follow our astronauts as they make ready for the next manned space flight, you might be struck by the fact they all carry bulging brief cases on their daily rounds.

It's a pretty mundane piece of equipment for a spaceman. But these men are a far cry from the happy-go-lucky "flyboys" we associated with bold missions in times past.

They are space technicians in their own right, who constantly think and talk the language of the specialists. They are tightly woven into a complex team whose heroes actually are legion, but seem destined mostly to go unsung.

Possibly the biggest lesson we can learn from these men — Alan Shepard and his six colleagues, the Project Mercury leaders, and others — is their utter dedication to precision.

We live in a time when charges are laid upon America that it is lax, soft of muscle, fuzzy in its thinking, laggard in science and education generally. By their mere existence, the men of Project Mercury prove

June, At Last!

The chilled, damp pages of March, April and May have dropped from the 1961 calendar and everyone's hoping that June will come "busting out all over."

It's got to be better than last month which, according to District Observer Edwin Cope, just missed being the coldest May on record.

"In the Good Old Summer Time" never seemed so appropriate to sing as right now.

Once Over

Is the United Nations a genuine temple of peace or the largest gas works on earth, with free world suffering from leaks in the gas jets?

Peace by discussion has from its founding meant belligerence, war threats, confusions and the rapid spread of Soviet misinformation.

Russia from the start has used it as a launching pad for propaganda, dissension and complete perversion of facts.

Large and important areas of the world have been pushovers for Soviet stardom in noisy drama entitled "The Other Fellow is Always the Villain."

Uncle Sam and his allies have been playing Lord Chesterfield in color while the enemy has laughed up his sleeve, swinging from the floor, hitting below the belt and delivering vetoes wholesale by pushbutton.

The free world against Russia has been performing like Emily Post versus Dangerous Dan McGrew, Attila the Hun and Man Who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder.

Today the U.S.S.R. strives to put U.N. in a grave beside League of Nations, Little Eva, Lochinvar, Dr. Parkhurst, Alice in Wonderland and Boy Who Stood on Burning Deck.

It makes no bones about its intentions and most free world delegates seem to perform in Little Lord Fauntleroy costumes, waving the Book of Etiquette and qualifying as candidates for admission to a charm school.

The theme song of U.N. has become

Playwrights have voted to cut royalties to help showbusiness. They will give it a year's trial with understanding producers, actors, choreographers and directors, also take less. Authors of straight plays will take half usual royalty for 17 weeks. Authors of musicals will take cut for 30 weeks. But so many plays close so fast today that a run of 17 weeks is highly imaginative and 30 weeks something out of dream world.

Playwrights have voted step in belief that high costs of tickets is killing theater. Cost of two seats, with taxi fare, and restaurant dinner can shatter budget for a month. Allowing 30 weeks for run of a music is answer to "Pop, what's an optimist?"

How Did This Guy Get In The Picture?

Will DiSalle Run Again?

By DUANE E. CROFT
Salem News Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Will Mike DiSalle run for re-election?

Premature though the question appears, with decision-making time for 1962 candidates more than a half year away, it crops up with increasing frequency around the Statehouse as the Republican-dominated 104th General Assembly nears its close.

As expected after last November's election returns came in, the session has been, more than anything else, a series of skirmishes between the GOP leaders and the Democratic governor.

Both Factions Wonder

Both sides have sought to justify their actions during the 1959 session and their campaign positions of last year. Inevitably, the groundwork has been laid for a continuation of the feud next year, when top state offices will be up for grabs along with most of the legislative seats.

So the question rather naturally arises in the minds of both political hobbyists and professionals as to whether DiSalle will lead his party's fight for the voters' approval or step aside and let someone else take over.

The answer at this point is a matter of opinion. There are plenty of those and one is as good as another — unless it comes from the governor himself, and none is.

Observers who guess DiSalle will try again cite his unwillingness to surrender or take the easy way out of a fight. He has a deep personal interest in state government, sincerely believes in the programs he has fostered, and resents Republican insinuations against either, they say.

Even if he thought he might lose the battle, they contend, DiSalle will feel compelled to go down fighting for vindication of the things he has tried to accomplish as the state's first four-year governor.

Ignores Consequences

To document their argument, they point to a number of controversial issues into which he has waded without much apparent thought for the political consequences.

The argument is characterized by the now-famous remark of one of DiSalle's cabinet officers that he is deemed by many Democrats to be "the best governor and the worst politician" in Ohio's history.

The "he-will-run" people also recall the governor's recent statements that as soon as the Assembly adjourns, he will hie to the hustings to carry his side of the story to the people. He has told county Democratic chairmen he wants all the speaking engagements he can get.

The dissenters to these arguments point to more subtle developments as evidence DiSalle will not seek re-election.

They say his administrative experience in both government and private industry would open any number of doors to more lucrative and less arduous jobs, so why should he continue to wage what so often seems a losing battle?

They also declare the lack of obvious bonds between DiSalle in Columbus and the Kennedy administration in Washington is more superficial than real, and that the governor will be able to move to the national capital if he wants.

Two Aides Gone

Along this same line, they point to his loss of two of his top three administrative assistants. Rankin Gibson became state commerce secretary after John W. Bush was named to the Interstate Commerce Commission and Maurice J. Connell, a long-time friend and associate, recently copied a high-level Washington appointment as commissioner of strategic materials.

The governor has said he will not replace either, but will distribute their work among other members of his executive staff. This indicates he doesn't plan to remain in the Statehouse four more years, the "he-won't-run-again" group says.

Beyond those two main lines of pro and con arguments, each opinion distributor can add little details and chance remarks which convince him he is on the right track.

Mind Not Made Up?

But some of the people close to the governor, both in Columbus and elsewhere, say he hasn't made up his own mind yet.

The nature of politics being what it is and the filing deadline for candidates being a little more than eight months away, they very well may be right.

One thing is certain now: DiSalle won't tip his hand until next January. In the meantime, the speculation makes a sure-fire subject of conversation for the political hobbyists and professionals.

Ex-President Criticizes Administration

It's always a significant event when spokesmen of the party out of power give their sizeup of what the party in power is doing.

Former President Eisenhower's remarks at the testimonial dinner honoring Republican members of Congress told at least what the chief executive who left office a little more than four months ago thinks of the succeeding administration. Mr. Eisenhower used the implicit rather than the explicit style of expression, but it was not difficult to discern his meaning.

Many people who supported the Republican ticket have been wondering why Republicans in Congress have not been more vocal and more pointed in their criticisms. The speech of former President Eisenhower was dignified but nonetheless penetrating. Here is a passage where the inference is clear, though the words are restrained:

"I was proud when, in recent crises, members of our party did not attempt to criticize, condemn or belittle those in authority. This we did even though some seemed disposed falsely to blame us. We did not scurry about in search of a 'scapegoat.'"

"We decry anyone's efforts to do so. Here I pay my personal tribute to the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, all the members of which body I have known long and well. It is my conviction that America possesses no group of men more dedicated, more patriotic and more capable in meeting grave responsibility."

THE REFERENCE undoubtedly was to press reports recently that President Kennedy has been passing the buck to the Joint Chiefs of Staff for the fiasco of the "invasion" of Cuba, though it is well known that they were not given responsibility for the conduct of the operation.

The implication is plain that Mr. Eisenhower thinks it was unwise for the present administration to start blaming the military chiefs and thus tend to weaken public confidence in them.

It was in domestic affairs generally, however, that the former president expressed his most vehement criticism. He said:

"What, exactly, do we stand for here at home? We Republicans see Mr. America in his high station as a free, self-reliant, proud individual. We are convinced that he can plan his own life and spend his own money better than some possibly benevolent bureaucrat can in his behalf. Any action that weakens any citizen's self-respect is wrong. That is the reason we oppose the ever-increasing concentration of power in Washington."

That's what may affect the next national election more than any other issue.

"All agree it is criminal for one man to steal from another. But over-powerful government can rob the individual just as surely — only the scale is grander, the stakes are greater and the loss far more tragic. For what is stolen by paternalistic government is that precious compound of initiative, independence and self-respect that distinguishes a man from the mob, a person from a number, a freeman from the slave. . . ."

"We Republicans take our stand for the individual! . . ."

"We will not barter local and state responsibility for centralization, nor will we trade a little government intervention for a little handout."

"We consider it sheer arrogance to believe that people in government know better for the people than they know for themselves."

"We are, therefore, against programs that would substitute coercion for cooperation. The new farm proposals, creating an agricultural czar, are a case in point."

"We are against programs that erode away citizen, local and state self-reliance. Federal payment of teachers' salaries — as distinguished from needed construction — is a case in point."

"We are against the insulting concept of government by big brother. Excessive public housing, rampant public power, federalized youth programs are cases in point."

"But as we fight the unwise, we Republicans proudly stand for positive programs in every area of public concern. We have long stood for advances in such programs as education, agriculture, minimum wage, medical care and area redevelopment. But here is the great difference — our Republican watchdog is 'responsible progress.' . . ."

"I look in vain, and with deep concern, for fiscal responsibility today in public affairs. As I note the mounting expenditures, I often think how easy it is to buy things when you're spending the other fellow's money. That this must stop is one of the things that a strong, unified Republican party should be teaching and preaching — and, so doing, can stop."

MR. EISENHOWER cautioned against friction within the party when members begin to "choose up sides" for the 1964 presidential election. He urged party harmony and a "combined voice" by its leaders and would-be candidates.

On the whole, Mr. Eisenhower gave his party some good advice, but he might have selected and emphasized above all else one issue — the inflation that, unless checked, will make the dollar worth less and less as the prices of almost everything rise due to excessive spending by the federal government.

That's what may affect the next national election more than any other issue.

Of This and That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

What is home without an oilologist? That is the U.S. government's job title for a housekeeper. Note to Sunday drivers: America now has 3½ million miles of roads. So why crowd?

New York City probably has the world's largest subsurface working population. About 400,000 people here earn a living underground doing everything from running subways to hunting rats, from selling newspapers to accepting bank deposits.

People of genius sometimes meet bizarre deaths. Example: Sherwood Anderson, pioneer Midwest writer of realism, died after swallowing a toothpick.

Our quotable notables: "Be virtuous and you will be happy; but you will be lonesome, sometimes." —Bill Nye.

A land on more and more wheels: Detroit is our motor capital, but cars are put together now in 41 of our states. And one out of some facet of this industry.

You're never too old to learn. Today more than half a million folks in the 60-to-70 age bracket have gone back to school. Some are studying how to retire, others are training themselves in new skills. And isn't there a great human majesty in sunset citizens who have the courage to seek a fresh purpose and a new dawn?

Hint to wives: "Marriage is like a bottle of champagne. It lasts longer when you keep the mouth closed."

Restless America has never accepted the historical thesis that its frontier was closed. Doesn't every change bring another frontier? Last year about 36 million Americans—one out of five—moved to a new residence. We are still a nation on the march.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Ties Of Home

Dear Ann Landers: You seem to get letters on every imaginable subject, so I hope you will print mine.

I'm a mailman. Please don't think I'm complaining about the work. Almost everybody is pleasant and friendly. Strangers say, "Beautiful day" or, "Miserable rain we're having." Sometimes they just smile.

It's well known that a mailman never will get rich on the job but if he didn't love his work he'd do something else.

The thing I'd like to get across in your column is the mailman's biggest problem—the size and position of mailboxes. Almost half the boxes are too small and badly placed. This means we have to stoop, reach or bend.

If the average person would try to shove a magazine and three letters into his own mailbox with a 40-pound pack on his back, he'd get the idea. If everyone who reads your column would check his mailbox our work would be a breeze. Thank you—YOUR MAILMAN.

Dear Mailman: I just tried to shove a magazine and three letters into my own mailbox and it's impossible. How do you do it?

Thank you for writing. I'm going to see what I can do about my mailbox at once.

Good Advice

Dear Ann: I just wanted you to know that your rules for getting over a mad crush worked. I am a girl 16 who went ape over a guy who didn't treat me right. I kept going with him and taking whatever he dished out because I thought I could never get over being crazy about him.

Then I read your column listing instructions on how to get over a mad crush. I cut it out and framed it. I read it every morning and every night. It took 3 weeks, 4 days and 5 hours but now I am completely cured. Thanks a million.—MINNY.

Whenever we get a few dollars ahead, this daughter "needs" something. She believes that parents have a moral obligation to share whatever they have with their children — married or single.

Will you please comment on this?—BLED WHITE.

Dear White: Part of the problem is your fault. Parents should make it plain that kids who quit school to get married are strictly on their own. Often this will chill a premature marriage and the children decide to stay in school where they belong.

Parents of married children bear no financial responsibility. If they wish to help, it's a different matter. But they should not be bludgeoned, shamed or nagged into giving money or gifts to married children.

Dog Warden's Job Not Easy

In one of your recent issues, a Leetonia area resident criticized the dog warden for not chasing down stray dogs. I must take exception to it.

I don't own a dog but many strays come our way and every time that I have complained to Assistant Dog Warden Harold McCall of Rogers, he has canvassed the territory hunting for the dogs that are on the loose.

Of course we can't catch these animals. They can run faster than we can but I do know that Harold McCall earns his salary.

11 Algerians Die In Gun Fights With Paris Police

PARIS (AP) — Police threw a dragnet over three boroughs of Paris today in an effort to trace Algerians who took part in a shooting affray which claimed at least 11 lives this morning.

Police said 11 Algerians had been killed, four of them soldiers serving with the French army. Four other Algerians and five Paris policemen were wounded.

Eighty Algerians were questioned by police, then taken to a special detention center set up at Vincennes.

The first attack came soon after midnight when Algerian commandos in two light trucks shot up a police car in the 13th Arrondissement with automatic arms and grenades. Three police were wounded.

An hour later a police car was attacked at the corner of the boulevards Magenta and Strasbourg and two policemen were wounded. Two of the Algerians fell dead after a chase among the trees along the boulevard.

The police shot down three more Algerians near the Bonne Nouvelle subway station further west.

The last clash occurred when police laid siege to a building in the Rue Saint-Martin, where an Algerian had taken shelter. He was shot dead. Weapons and several grenades were found on his body.

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

New Treatments for Tuberculosis

One of the most amazing and heartening reports of medical progress has just been issued from the Army's Fitzsimons General Hospital in Denver.

Before new drugs were introduced in the treatment of tuberculosis and before a surgical approach to control of the White Plague was made available in 1950, practically every member of the armed forces who contracted the disease had to be permanently separated from the service or retired. And following discharge or retirement the tubercular patient had little to look forward to besides prolonged bed rest under the best conditions then available.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

SINCE THE INTRODUCTION of the newer drugs and of safe and improved surgical procedures, almost 80 per cent of 3,059 tubercular patients were recommended for return to duty during the years 1950 to 1958.

Not only that. But a three-year study also showed that bed rest provided no better results provided that the patient was free from significant symptoms.

As a result of these combined studies, patients who are free from symptoms are encouraged to undertake physical reconditioning during their courses of courses in preparation for return to duty.

THANKS TO THIS new approach, many patients, completed high school and college courses while in the hospital. And when the threat of contagiousness was well passed, many were assigned hospital duties.

In a period averaging six months, most patients were returned to duty while drug treatments and observations were continued for another several months.

As of December 1960, a total of 1,081 tubercular patients have been successfully treated and returned to duty within the course of but 12 months. And despite adherence to a policy of early ambulation, the relapse rate has been less than 2 per cent.

Isn't that a glorious achievement?

FAMILY SECURITY CHECK-UP

Now you can check up on your family's financial health, just as you check up on your physical health. This service is more than an interview. It is a review every father should have regularly—whether he needs insurance or not.

What you could lose without one

There are mistakes, oversights, gaps in the average man's financial security program. Too much of it is haphazard. Too much of it is left to chance. It lacks a plan. Or, too often, it simply falls behind the times.

For example, the Social Security law has been changed nine times since its inception. And the Social Security benefits your wife and children could get may not dovetail efficiently with your pension or insurance programs. Then too—you can unintentionally "disinherit" a child, in effect, if you have overlooked naming him among your beneficiaries.

More than an interview—a service

Metropolitan, the Company you look to for authoritative information on physical health, offers a way to check up on your family's financial health.

Metropolitan representatives have been trained in Metropolitan's own schools and are qualified by solid experience to bring you this Family Security Check-Up service. They are equipped with businesslike charts and tables that show you exactly where you stand.

Whether you need insurance or not, this service makes sense. Remember, Metropolitan is as local as Main Street—as close as your phone. Call your Metropolitan man today.

There is no obligation—except to those you love.

WHAT IT IS AND WHAT IT DOES FOR YOU

With the help of your Metropolitan man

1. You check the facts: your Social Security, your home, your life insurance, your pension plan, your savings and other assets. You may be surprised to learn how much you're worth.

2. You weigh your responsibilities: mortgage or rent payments, education, retirement, accident and sickness emergencies; how much it would cost your family to live without you.

3. You learn where you stand. You determine your weak and strong points . . . whether the provisions you have made for your family will do what you intend. You get the facts in front of you.

4. You plan for the future. Based on these facts, you decide what action, if any, may be needed to give you a family security plan, tailor-made to your own needs and ambitions—one which makes good sense for you.

Kennedy

fer, dinner with Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace.

Guests at the luncheon included U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. David Bruce; the British foreign secretary, Lord Home, and the Countess of Home; the chancellor of the exchequer, John Selwyn Lloyd; the British ambassador to Washington, Sir Harold Caccia; the British ambassador-designate to Washington, David Ormsby-Gore; and Prince and Princess Radziwill.

Before taking off for Washington tonight, Kennedy also will be godfather at the christening of the daughter of Princess Radziwill, Mrs. Kennedy's sister. The Kennedys stayed at the Radziwill home Sunday night. Mrs. Kennedy is remaining in London for a week's visit with her sister.

Macmillan went to London airport to greet Kennedy as he arrived by jet with his wife from Vienna.

"We had a long and varied journey, and it is a great pleasure to come to this ancient country," Kennedy said.

The beaming young President obviously was warmed by the cheers and waves of 250,000 Londoners who lined the 15-mile route from the airport.

Kennedy is no stranger to the British. He was constantly in and out of London while his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was ambassador from 1938 to 1940.

According to diplomats in Vienna and London these are likely to be the highlights of Kennedy's rundown for Macmillan:

Berlin and Germany—No great crisis seems imminent. Khrushchev still wants a new status for Berlin in the absence of a peace settlement for all Germany. Kennedy warned that the allies will resist any Red threats or thrusts to rob them of their war-torn rights. Another East-West negotiation seems unavoidable.

Laos—There was an exchange of new assurances that each side wants the torn kingdom neutralized, reunited, independent, pacified. But Kennedy thinks it's still up to the Reds to call off the shooting and so strengthen the cease-fire.

Banning nuclear tests and disarmament—The outlook is murky. Khrushchev favors combining the two sets of negotiations which in the past have been going on in parallel. He also wants a Communist-neutral-Western directorate of the control machinery, with each member having a veto. Kennedy insisted this was unacceptable.

East-West relations — Although there was little common ground, neither side seemed to have suggested its own position was unchangeable.

Rock 'n' Roll Beach Party Ends In Brawl

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A wild brawl ended a Saturday night beach party, planned for a few thousand rock 'n' roll fans, at which more than 25,000 showed up.

One girl was raped, another was beaten to the sand and stomped by rioters, and a third suffered a serious eye injury when a firecracker was thrown in her face.

Fifty sheriff's officers and highway patrolmen braved a barrage of rocks, beer bottles and cans to break up the mob. Fourteen youths were arrested.

Rioting members of the vast throng ripped plumbing out of public rest rooms and tore parts off lifeguard towers to build giant bonfires. Singer Fabian, who was to entertain at the party, refused to go on when it began to get out of control.

A Los Angeles radio station, KRLA, planned the party at Zuma Beach, a county facility 20 miles north of here. The violence began as the formal party ended at 11:15 p.m.

"It was a milling, drinking, ugly crowd of 25,000 to 30,000 young people on the beach in the dark," said Capt. Kirby Temple of the county lifeguard service.

"They were fighting, shouting, grabbing girls, and tearing each others' clothes. You name it and they did it."

Law officers blamed the trouble on drinking. There was no race problem, they said. Most of the youths arrested were charged with drunkenness, bringing alcohol into a county park or juvenile possession of alcohol.

Herb Heiman, KRLA program director, said the trouble started when the program ended and the crowd didn't want to leave.

It took law officers four hours to completely clear the beach.

"When you choose a job, think not only of the pay check at the end of the week. But ponder how in this work you can make the best contribution to mankind. When you choose a community in which to make your home, think of the support you can give to make it a better place to live."

Cunningham Pitches EL To 4-2 Win

Versatile Ken Cunningham pitched the East Liverpool American Legion team to a 4-2 triumph over Salem's Aldon's Diner in a National 10th District American Legion League battle at Centennial Park Sunday.

Cunningham, who was All-Ohio in football and basketball for the Potters this year, gave up four hits, two walks and struck out 15 batters to spoil Salem's opening game.

East Liverpool broke on top with one run in the first inning as Don Hilderbrand and Bud Myers singled and Gary Berhar doubled. The Potters scored once in the third and edged the tilt with two runs on three hits in the seventh frame.

Manager Pete Sanders' Salem crew tied up the encounter in the fifth inning at 2-2. Joe Zamarelli lashed out a single and Butch Crawford brought him home with a triple. Crawford chalked up the second tally by stealing home.

Pitcher Gary Dermotta and Tom Owen collected the other Salem safeties.

Dave Myer, Gary Berhar and Roy Ensinger, members of the Potter squad, played for Beaver Local High School teams this past season.

John Hanna of the Salem aggregation will be back to play for United Local teams this coming school year. Other Salem players, Tom Roberts and Tom Rill were members of West Branch teams this year.

Salem Senior High School performers, Bill Berry, Roger DeCrow and Butch Crawford are also on the team.

Washington Senators. It concludes with four games with the league-leading Detroit Tigers, who still hold a two-game edge on the second-place Indians.

"This is only June," cautioned Dykes.

"I'll be glad to settle for two victories in Detroit right now," he said. "They have a hot club up there, too."

Jim Piersall, who rapped three hits in the opener, boosting his average to .356, sat out the nightcap because of a sore foot and is on the doubtful list for tonight's game. Johnny Antonelli (0-4) is scheduled to face the Senators' Tom Sturdivant (2-3).

Dykes was happy about Sunday's combination of Cleveland hitting and pitching. Woodie Held, Willie Kirkland and Bubba Phillips cracked home runs and John Romano extended his hitting streak to 19 games, raising his average to .346. He got on base eight times although he had only three hits.

"He's the best catcher in the league," boasted Dykes of Romano. "He always has been a good hitter. Now he's off to a good start and has that confidence."

Jim Perry (3-4) won for the first time since April 24 in the opener as he got three shutout innings of relief from Bob Allen and Frank Funk. Wynn Hawkins (5-2) nailed down his fifth Sunday triumph with two scoreless innings of aid by Bobby Locke in the nightcap.

Perry gave up a run in the first inning on a walk and two singles. Then Held smashed a 400-foot homer following a walk to Romano in the second inning and the Indians never were headed, although Perry ran into trouble in the sixth when Ted Kluszewski drilled a two-run homer to cut the lead to 4-3.

Hawkins Not Sharp
Hawkins wasn't particularly sharp in the second contest, yielding home runs to Ed Sadowski and Lee Thomas. But Hawkins received strong offensive support.

Four Indians runs crossed in the second inning after Sadowski's homer put Los Angeles in front 1-0. Kirkland smashed his third homer. An error and Held's double put two runners on for Phillips' sixth home run.

Phillips also hit a three-run blast Saturday and his 31 runs batted in with only 51 hits made him the most dangerous .268 hitter in the league. Dykes, appreciative of Phillips, says:

"The little guy on third is doing all right, isn't he? Nobody pays any attention to him. He just keeps quiet and does his job."

Salem Merchants Clobber Leetonia

The Salem Merchants clobbered Leetonia, 20-1 Sunday afternoon in a County-City Baseball League battle played at Leetonia.

Salem banged out 18 hits while talented pitcher Jim Meissner held Leetonia to a scant one hit. Meissner, 2-0 on the season, was relieved in the seventh inning by Lynn Barnett.

Leetonia's lone run came in the third inning when the pitcher, Habeger, smashed a homerun.

Four Salem players lashed out triples. Dick Beall knocked one leading off in the first inning. Chuck Wilson, Casey Lease and Meissner accounted for the other three.

Salem's power packed attack produced some good averages for the day. Wilson connected three out of four trips to the plate. Lease three for five and Meissner had two for three.

The victorious Salem crew is now 4-3 on the season while Leetonia is now 1-6. Salem administered an earlier 10-4 defeat to Leetonia.

In other games East Palestine tripped Columbiana, 4-2 and East Liverpool pounded Negley, 19-2. Both East Palestine and East Liverpool are tied for the league lead with 6-1 records.

Reds Split Pair With Cubs; Dodgers Lead by Half Game

By The Associated Press
The National League race is a wild scramble with Los Angeles out front by only a half game and San Francisco tied with Cincinnati for second place.

Despite Los Angeles' 4-2 defeat at the hands of San Francisco Sunday, the Dodgers retained the lead because Cincinnati had to be satisfied with a split against Chicago after winning the first game.

After Sam Jones ran into a wild streak in the seventh inning, the Giants once more called on Stu

Miller, who stopped the Dodgers the rest of the way.

The Giants' 4-2 victory, set up by Felipe Alou's two-run homer off loser Stan Williams, cut the Dodgers' National League lead to a half game. The Giants and Cincinnati Reds are tied for second, five percentage points back.

Cincinnati could have regained the lead but they stumbled over Chicago after winning the first game. Jim Maloney threw a three-hitter at Chicago in the 3-1 opener but the Cubs downed the Reds 8-2 in the second game.

Spahn Tames Cards

Warren Spahn, spinning along toward another 20-game season, won his sixth of the year and the 294th of his career, by pitching Milwaukee to a 7-1 decision over St. Louis. He gave up only six hits.

Don Ferrarese, a refugee from the American League, made his first victory for Philadelphia a 5-0 job against Pittsburgh. It was the second time in three days the Pirates had been shut out by the Phils.

Dodgers was the first in their last six meetings and salvaged the final game of a series. A crowd of 47,463 saw the Giants get two off Stan Williams in the first and add another pair on Alou's homer in the seventh. Los Angeles scored on Johnny Roseboro's homer in the fifth and again in the seventh on Jones' walk with the bases loaded.

Robinson Clubs 137th Homer
Young Maloney, who was 21 Friday, had a shutout in the first game until Chicago's George Altman homered with one out in the ninth. Jim O'Toole did not have the same good fortune. Back-to-back homers by Ron Santo and Ernie Banks in the first started him on the way to his fifth defeat despite Frank Robinson's 13th home run.

Spahn lost a chance for his 53rd big league shutout when he uncorked a wild pitch that let in a run in the fourth inning. Home runs by Lee Maye and Frank Bolling accounted for five of the Braves' runs off Bob Gibson.

The Phillies knocked out Vinegar Bend Mizell in the second inning. Manager Danny Murtaugh for the second time this season called on Bob Friend, a starter, for relief work. Ferrarese allowed only five hits.

Archie Moore Defends Title

By The Associated Press
It has been almost 22 months since Archie Moore last defended his world light heavyweight boxing title. In the meantime the "world" has shrunk.

The National Boxing Association withdrew its recognition because Moore failed to defend and eventually crowned Harold Johnson. Moore still reigns in New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

Moore finally gets in these Saturday night with his championship on the line. His opponent will be Giulio Rinaldi, a 26-year-old Italian, who beat him in a non-title scrap in Rome last October.

The last time Moore made the 175-pound class limit was Aug. 12, 1959. He knocked out von Durelle in three rounds.

Rinaldi has fought only 30 bouts (25-5 record). Moore will be climbing into the ring for No. 213. He has a 181-25-6 record with 230 knockouts.

The bout will be carried on network (ABC) television, starting at 9 p.m. (EST).

Shutouts Hurlled in 3 or 4 Games

Mile Branch Retains Lead In Class 'A' With 8-0 Win

Shut-outs dominated Class A softball action Saturday evening with league-leading Mile Branch blanking the Spartans, 8-0; the Italian Club measured Bliss, 5-0; the Alliance Amvets edged Lincoln Machine, 2-0 and Old Dutch pounded Sheely's, 10-2 in games played at Kelley Park.

Mile Branch (5-1) jumped into a 4-0 lead over the Spartans (3-3) in the first inning on one hit, a triple by Stoffer.

The game was a pitcher's battle as Mile Branch's Stoffer hurled a one-hitter and Byrd threw a four-hitter for the Spartans but four errors added to his downfall.

The winners added a run in the fourth and three more in the fifth.

STOFFER PACED THE Mile Branch attack with two hits. Ziegler pounded out the lone safety for the Spartans.

The Italian Club (3-1) tallied two runs in the first frame on two hits. Jerry Menichelli and Bill DelFavero connected for singles in the inning.

Tom Ehrhart, Italian Club hurler, twirled a three-hitter, singles to Keeler and Kyser and a double to Schmidt.

The Italian Club racked up runs in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Enrhardt paced the Italian Club's attack with a double and a single. Bliss (1-5) fielders committed six errors.

The Alliance Amvets and Lincoln Machine played a nip and tuck contest after the first frame. Alliance chalked up its winning runs on two hits, a hit batter and a walk in the initial inning.

PITCHERS BILL Panzott of Lincoln (3-2) and J. Moulin of Alliance (2-2) locked up in a real pitcher's duel. After the first frame Panzott put a stopper on the Amvets bats and gave up no more hits. Moulin scattered five Lincoln bingles. Pauline rapped a triple for the Machine nine in the second inning.

Shaffer and Pauline connected for two hits apiece for Lincoln while Henderson and Bryan managed to grab the two hits off of Panzott.

Old Dutch's Wallen allowed Sheely's (1-4) only two hits while Yost was giving up nine safeties to the winners.

Sheely rang up two runs in the first inning to take a 2-1 margin. Sheely scored on the strength of singles by Yost and Yeagley.

After the first frame the Sheely bats were silenced for the duration of the game.

OLD DUTCH (3-3) made its move by taking a 3-2 lead after two innings and never was headed. Doubles by Gallo and Hammett and a single by D. Jackson powered Old Dutch into the lead.

A five-run fourth inning gave Old Dutch insurance runs that were not needed. The winners collected two more in the fifth.

Hammett paced the Old Dutch attack as he hammered out a triple and a double and drove in three runs. Gallo collected two hits and drove in two runs. Wallen smashed two hits in aiding the Old Dutch cause.

Colt Has Lame Ankle

Carry Back Finishes
7th Behind Sherlock

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
OCEANPORT, N.J. (AP) — Carry Back, the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner who failed dismally in the Belmont Stakes, must have been hurting in the left front ankle when he blew a chance Saturday to become the ninth Triple Crown hero.

Carry Back 17h
Another colt owned by a Miami resident, Jacob Sher's Sherlock, was a romping winner of the $148,650 Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park. Carry Back, bet down to favoritism at odds of 9 to 20 by a howling crowd of 51,586, came home seventh in a field of nine in the 93rd running of the big 3-year-old classic. It was one of those dramatic finishes where a majority of the fans didn't see the winner finish—they were looking back and wondering what happened to Carry Back.

Carry Back is owned by Katherine Price of Miami, and trained by her husband, Jack, who reported the colt lame upon arrival Sunday at Monmouth Park from New York.

"It's his left front ankle," said Price. "He was lame when he was unloaded from the van that took him from Belmont to Monmouth Park. Preliminary X-rays show no fracture and I'm inclined to think it's a pulled muscle. But we intend to take other X-rays to try to make sure."

When Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster set the slow Belmont pace, and Sherlock tagged along in second place ready to strike for the big cash in the final length of a mile, Carry Back was obviously in trouble.

Carry Back, who won the first two legs of the Triple Crown at Louisville and Baltimore in May, dropped back to last place before the field went to the final turn with a bit more than half a mile to travel Saturday.

Jockey Johnny Sellers, who had accelerated Carry Back to his sensational scores at Churchill Downs and Pimlico, said afterwards that the Price colt "had a rough trip, and there was no racing room anywhere."

Officials re-played the race by a howling crowd of 51,586, movies on a closed circuit TV later, and a rear view of the horses heading down the home stretch showed Carry Back breaking in from the middle of the track over to the rail most of the final quarter mile. That indicated his left fore ankle, as stated by Price, was giving trouble and Carry Back was favoring it.

Sherlock, ridden by Panamanian Brailio Baeza, hadn't won a race since the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, Lexington, Ky., 10 days before the Derby. Baeza rode him in that one, too.

Eddie Arcaro rode Sherlock in the Derby at Louisville, and they took him from Belmont to Monmouth Park. Preliminary X-rays show no fracture and I'm inclined to think it's a pulled muscle. But we intend to take other X-rays to try to make sure."

Sherlock earned the Belmont purse of $104,900. He paid the highest straight price in the history of the Belmont, a boxcar $132.10-for-$2.

8 Tigers Blast Home Runs
In Sweep Over Twins

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland is making a big move in the American League race by winning 18 of its last 22 games but it can't match the home run boom of the front-running Detroit Tigers.

The secret of Detroit's ability can be read in the Sunday box scores. The Tigers' eight home runs were hit by eight different men.

Sure, the big men hit a few. Rocky Colavito got No. 15, Norm Cash No. 12, and Dick Brown No. 9. But the list also included Chico Fernandez, Bubba Morton, Mike Roarke, Jake Wood and Billy Bruton.

Tigers Lead Loop In Homers

The Tigers now lead the league in home runs with a total of 61, a statistic that is almost as startling as their long tenure in first place.

Detroit took two falls out of the groggy Minnesota Twins Sunday 10-4 and 9-3. The Twins now have lost nine in a row and 14 of their last 15.

New York finally found a pitcher besides Whitey Ford who could go the route in Bill Stafford. He proceeded to hold Chicago to seven hits while the White Sox chipped in with five errors, easing the Yanks' way to a 10-1 romp.

Boston beat Baltimore 6-5 on Joe Ginsberg's pinch two-run single in the last of the ninth. It was Ginsberg's first hit of the year.

Jim Archer, who escaped from the Kansas City bullpen on the suggestion of owner Charlie Finley, went all the way to top Washington 8-5 although he gave up 15 hits, five in the ninth.

Lary Gains 8th Victory
The Tigers rally exploded the power to back up Frank Lary enroute to his eighth victory in the opener. Brown, Wood and Fernandez hit their homers in the eighth inning. Bob Bruce gave way to Paul Foytack, the eventual winner, in the second game of a doubleheader played before 32,761 at Detroit.

The Yanks got four runs off Billy Pierce in the first inning on three walks, an error by Luis Aparicio and a three-run double by Elston Howard. Later, Roger Maris hit his 15th homer.

Ginsberg, winning hit in Boston off Hoyt Wilhelm came after the Red Sox had failed three times to bring home the tying run from third base. Jim Gentile hit No. 14 for the Orioles.

Kansas City climbed past Washington into fifth place on Archer's victory. Among the 13 hits by the A's was Andy Carey's third homer.

Vecek Answer
Expected on Chisox Sale

CHICAGO (AP)—President Bill Vecek is expected to hand down the final decision today on the sale of controlling interest in the Chicago White Sox.

"It's all up to Vecek," said Vice President Hank Greenberg. "If he decides to sell, we sell. If not, we stay."

Vecek, Greenberg and A.C. Allyn Jr. owns 54 per cent of Sox stock and their interest is being sought by a syndicate which includes entertainer Danny Thomas. Spokesman and apparent head of the group is Chicago attorney Bernard Epton.

"We have made a firm offer," said Epton Sunday. "Now it is up to them. There's no question of money. We have more than necessary. I made the offer to Mr. Allyn and also gave him a check."

Epton would not disclose the amount of the check nor would he call it "earnest money."

The Epton group reportedly has offered $4.8 million for the Vecek stock.

Vecek's combine bought the 54 per cent from Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney for $2.7 million two years ago. The contract provided for a $175,000 rebate if the group failed, within a year, to acquire the 80 per cent of stock necessary for tax depreciation benefits.

The other 46 per cent of the club is held by Chuck Comiskey who failed to gain control of the club even before his sister sold to Vecek. Comiskey has never let up in his efforts to gain control but he isn't considered likely that he would exceed or match the reported Epton offer.

On Nursing Education

PART I of II

In 1956 we converted our school of professional nursing to our school of practical nursing for three reasons: 1. due to a marked change in professional nursing education we were no longer able to give students a rounded education - the program had become academic rather than one of on-the-job training, students spent most of their time in the classroom and due to specialization they required a more varied clinical experience, 2. qualified instructors were very scarce - at the time there were 100 faculty vacancies in Ohio's 63 professional nursing schools, 3. the school cost was too much for us to carry - the annual deficit was $80,000 and this had to come from patients.

In our opinion, the education of professional nurses or R.N.s should be "college centered" because of today's academic requirements in the program - just as other hospital professionals are college trained: accountants, dietitians, medical technologists, medical records librarians, pharmacists, physical therapists, personnel directors, purchasing agents, administrators and doctors.

Incidentally each of the above pays for their education at their respective colleges. Hospital professional nursing schools even to this day make very nominal tuition charges. The college student pays an average of $1,700 per year for tuition, room, board; the professional nurse student at a hospital school pays an average of $300 per year for tuition, room, board. This situation is a carry-over from days gone by when students gave service to the hospital which was considered valuable labor. In recent years, the state nursing boards and the National League for Nursing have made it prohibitive to use students for service; students are there "to learn" not "to work" which is as it should be. However, we think that students should carry the financial burden of their education, not the patients.

In creating our school of practical nursing we immediately solved the first two problems: we can give these one year students a well-rounded education and we can readily meet faculty requirements. The third problem, one of finance, was improved, but not solved - the school deficit went down to $50,000 in 1958. Since then we have made some improvements and have increased tuition so that this year the school deficit will be $30,000 and in 1962 it will be $10,000.

Tuition was raised from $250 to $500 and then to $750 plus $5 per week for room. Students also buy their meals, books and uniforms.

The total cost to our students is about $1,200 for the one year course. For this the student in one year gains a career as a Licensed Practical Nurse; a challenging career that she can work at for a lifetime in any city in the U.S.A. and earn from $200 to $300 per month. In what other field could one get such a bargain in training time, cost, and employment opportunity.
